Building an Inclusive Classroom Culture LIVE via ZOOM (Three-Hour Event)

About the course

The SSTUWA, in partnership with TLN in Melbourne, are pleased to offer this online learning opportunity.

When teachers understand students, their cultural and linguistic background, their gender identity and any significant experiences such as trauma, the experience of disability or a learning disorder, then teachers can shape an inclusive environment that promotes high quality learning opportunities for all. It is a complex task to know all students but there are school procedures and weekly and daily routines that you can implement in your teaching practice that both build your knowledge of students and create a respectful classroom environment. In this session the presenter will explore different routines and practices teachers can use to create a more inclusive classroom culture.

About the hosts

Teacher Learning Network (TLN)

TLN is a Melbourne based, not-for-profit professional development provider supported by the Australian Education Union Victoria Branch and the Independent Education Union Victoria/Tasmania Branch. SSTUWA will be your major source of communication before the online event. Prior to the live event, SSTUWA will email you detailed instructions about how to access the online training space. TLN will then provide immediate telephone support just before the event begins on the day, and during the training if required.
