Coding - A Step by Step Guide for the Classroom LIVE via ZOOM (Three-Hour Event)

About the course

The SSTUWA, in partnership with TLN in Melbourne, are pleased to offer this online learning opportunity.

There is lots of talk about coding and computational thinking as skills for the future.
But how can teachers make sure that they are prepared to teach these skills? This hands-on workshop will provide an introduction to some approaches, tools and resources for the classroom. the course will introduce the basics of HTML, CSS and JavaScript, as well as object-oriented programming via Python. Participants will explore each of these tools at a basic level and make use of online apps that make teaching with these tools straightforward. Numerous examples will be provided for how these skills and tools might be deployed in different learning areas and at different year levels.
