Using Inquiry Learning to Differentiate your Teaching - LIVE 60 mins via ZOOM

About the course

The SSTUWA, in partnership with TLN in Melbourne, are pleased to offer this online learning opportunity. This session will focus on inquiry learning as a teaching approach to promote differentiation. In an inquiry learning approach student needs are placed at the centre of the learning experience and so very naturally leads to differentiation. Inquiry promotes differentiation of both the process and products of learning as students make decisions about how they work. An inquiry learning approach needs to be carefully designed and the role of the teacher is essential – we must have a strong understanding of student proficiency and set clear goals. We must also know when and how to support and intervene in the inquiry process. The presenter has experience in working in both primary and secondary settings.

About the hosts

Teacher Learning Network (TLN)

TLN is a Melbourne based, not-for-profit professional development provider supported by the Australian Education Union Victoria Branch and the Independent Education Union Victoria/Tasmania Branch. SSTUWA will be your major source of communication before the online event. Prior to the live event, SSTUWA will email you detailed instructions about how to access the online training space. TLN will then provide immediate telephone support just before the event begins on the day, and during the training if required.
