The Real Principles of Restorative Practice for Secondary Schools

About the course

The SSTUWA, in partnership with TLN in Melbourne, are pleased to offer this online learning opportunity for experienced teachers.

The presenter has designed the course to build the knowledge of experienced teachers in the restorative practice philosophy, so that they can support colleagues. The course will investigate the values and philosophy of restorative practice including the involvement of students in making decisions around appropriate responses to behavioural incidents and strategies for teachers to use when responding to inappropriate behaviours. These strategies make practice explicit and preference 'community and cooperation' over 'compliance and control'. The focus will be on how these principles can support teachers to create an inclusive, effective learning environment.
