SSTUWA

The State School Teachers' Union of W.A. (Inc.)

Working with Students with ADHD

About the course

The SSTUWA, in partnership with TLN in Melbourne, are pleased to offer this online learning opportunity.

Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), formerly known as attention deficit disorder, or ADD makes it difficult for people to inhibit their responses, everything from movement to speech to attentiveness. In this session the presenter will briefly explore the condition and how it manifests itself in the classroom. The presenter will then outline basic framework by which teachers can make adjustments to their instructional practice to better meet the needs of students with ADHD while still accommodating the learning needs of all students in the classroom.

About the hosts

Teacher Learning Network (TLN)

TLN is a Melbourne based, not-for-profit professional development provider supported by the Australian Education Union Victoria Branch and the Independent Education Union Victoria/Tasmania Branch. SSTUWA will be your major source of communication before the online event. Prior to the live event, SSTUWA will email you detailed instructions about how to access the online training space. TLN will then provide immediate telephone support just before the event begins on the day, and during the training if required.
