Learning resources for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander education

We know many educators look for reliable curriculum resources when teaching on Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander issues. You can find excellent resources via Narragunnawali – a program that supports schools and early learning services to take action towards reconciliation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

The Narragunnawali online platform is free to access and provides practical ways to introduce meaningful reconciliation initiatives in the classroom, around the school and with the community. Through the Narragunnawali platform, schools and early learning services can develop a Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP), and teachers and educators can access professional learning and curriculum resources to support the implementation of reconciliation initiatives.

Further information is listed below on what is available. For the full resources, sign up to www.narragunnawali.org.au

Narragunnawali Curriculum Resources

Narragunnawali Curriculum Resources help you build practical activities and lessons, promote reconciliation and develop understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures and contributions.

They align with:

- The Early Years Learning Framework (EYLF).
- Australian Curriculum (Versions 8.4 and 9).
- Reconciliation Action Plan Actions.

Time spent engaging with the curriculum resources can be added to your elective professional development hours. Please check the professional development guidelines with the Teacher Accreditation Regulatory Body in your state or territory.

Narragunnawali Subject Guides

Narragunnawali Subject Guides are a foundation to build on and adapt for your local area and setting.

When using the information, you should:

- Consult with your local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community.
- Critically evaluate resources.

Time spent engaging with these subject guides can be added to your elective professional development hours. Please check the professional development guidelines with the Teacher Accreditation Regulatory Body in your state or territory.

Narragunnawali Webinars and Workshops

Narragunnawali Webinars and Workshops are a great way to:

- Meet members of the Narragunnawali team.
- Hear stories from guest speakers.
- Get core insights around reconciliation in education.

Time spent engaging with webinars and workshops can be added to your elective professional development hours. Selected workshops offer endorsed accreditation hours. Please check the professional development guidelines with the Teacher Accreditation Regulatory Body in your state or territory.

Narragunnawali RAP Actions

Narragunnawali RAP Actions are the commitments schools and early learning services make in their Narragunnawali Reconciliation Action Plan.

RAP Actions are important for strengthening relationships, respect and opportunities:

- In the classroom.
- Around the school or service.
- And with the community.

Time spent engaging with the RAP Actions and connected resources can be added to your elective professional development hours. Please check the professional development guidelines with the Teacher Accreditation Regulatory Body in your state or territory.

Narragunnawali Reconciliation Toolkits

Whether you're a school or service leader, teacher or educator, student, parent, carer or community member, your role is important within the reconciliation in education community of practice.

Narragunnawali Reconciliation Toolkits contain comprehensive guides and core resources to support conversations and reconciliation action.

Time spent engaging with the toolkits can be added to your elective professional development hours. Please check the professional development guidelines with the Teacher Accreditation Regulatory Body in your state or territory.

Narragunnawali Professional Learning resources

Narragunnawali Professional Learning resources build awareness and understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures, and contributions.

They align with:

- The National Quality Standard (early learning).
- The Australian Professional Standards for Teachers (primary and secondary).
- Reconciliation Action Plan Actions.

Time spent engaging with the professional learning resources can be added to your elective professional development hours. Please check the professional development guidelines with the Teacher Accreditation Regulatory Body in your state or territory.
